

Specification & Document Review Guide

TERRA / SURFACE · Original demo document · 2026-09-28

This is not a certificate, test report or installation instruction. It provides no measurements or performance ratings. Obtain actual product information from the manufacturer and valid original records.

1. Identify the subject

Illustrative pattern codes: TS-01 through TS-06. Stock images explain wood and stone textures. They do not represent actual material construction, color or products offered for sale.

2. Product specification worksheet

Product name / supplier / item and lot / intended use / length × width × thickness / finish / substrate / attachment method / pack quantity / care documentation. Enter verified product information in every field. This demo has no confirmed specification values.

3. Review the setting

Record area, substrate type and condition, indoor or outdoor setting, expected traffic, light and color, and maintenance needs. The product supplier and a qualified installation professional must review suitability for the actual site.

4. Test-document request checklist

Issuer and original verification channel / report identifier and date / sample item and lot matched to supplied goods / methods and conditions / result units, scope and limitations / validity and applicability / revision history. Completing this list does not itself establish conformity.

5. Example test-planning fields — values undetermined

Select project-relevant topics such as wear, staining and cleaning, slip behavior or dimensional stability. Sample count, conditioning, equipment, environment, measurement procedure and acceptance criteria must be separately agreed with an appropriate testing organization. No test has been conducted and no passing result is reported here.

6. Sample review record

Review date / reviewer / sample identification / lighting observed / notes on color, pattern and feel / questions and additional records / next decision. Screen images are not a substitute for physical samples.

7. Use and update

The inquiry form checks input only. It does not send or store messages or ship samples. Before applying this template to a real company, replace the fictional brand, stock illustrations and demo documents with verified product information. Author: TERRA / SURFACE template project.
